ALL TROPICO IS GLAD

WINNING OF FIRST PRIZE FOR FLOAT DELIGHTS HEARTS OF CITIZENS

Tropico Chamber of Commerce entered the floral parade of Wednesday morning determined to win the first prize of $250. and did win. Tropico won, not by virtue of every one turning out to put a posy here and a fern there on the handsome floral exhibit, but simply that Mrs. A. L. Bancroft the noted decorator, who has been one of the most prominent and keenly interested of Tropico's citizens, superintended and then did the actual decorating of the float. Two whole days Mrs. Bancroft devoted to the pleasant task of decorating the exhibit. One picture of Mrs. Bancroft that was familiar to all passersby was that of her standing, with a purple flower in one hand and a spray or long string of plumosas in the other deciding just where to place the decorations so that they would be the most artistic as well as the most effective. H. E. McMullin, another high class decorator, very ably assisted Mrs. Bancroft. Mrs. Frank B. McKenney, who is always an ardent and enthusiastic worker, meanwhile was collecting the flowers and greenery and lending every possible assistance, Frank B. McKenney and Roy Bancroft each was determined to make a grand success of the exhibit and win the first prize and worked several days collecting from desert and mountainside the necessary delicately tinted flowers to place on the float. Frank Peters and Dr. W. C. Mabry were untiring workers who assisted so ably.

The exhibit which won the first prize, as well as fame for Tropico, was an artistic conception of a bungalow, a real California one. A brilliant idea, for California is noted for her pretty bungalows. A handsome bungalow twenty feet long, twelve feet wide and fifteen feet high daintily constructed of lumber, furnished by the Tropico Lumber Co., was mounted on a large Moreland truck furnished by Carpi Brothers of Tropico. The Pioneer Paper Co. of Los Angeles, through Frank B. McKenney, chairman of the float committee, donated the roof granite which added so much to the beauty of the bungalow. The entire surface was painted white—at the base a wide two-foot space was filled with green sod, donated by Forest Lawn cemetery. Superintendent Glora of the cemetery was untiring in his efforts in obtaining green sod, flowers and greenery with which to adorn the floral exhibit. H. D. Roberson, proprietor of the Sunset nursery, donated ferns, plumosas and the numerous fern baskets that adorned the exhibit and attracted so much favorable comment. The entire conception was ideal and was most artistically executed. The bungalow housed an entire family of children, who were selected and costumed for the occasion by Mrs. Frank B. McKenney. Those who composed the bungalow family were Miss Dorothy Hubbs, Miss Carrie Stone, Miss Mary Jane Evans-Hough, Miss E'oise Seaman, Miss Mary Logan and Master Dolphin Paine. The young ladies each carried an ukulele, and rendered many popular selections. Harry Greenwald drove the bungalow float, which was preceded by four automobiles and two others each occupied by members of the Tropico Chamber of Commerce. In the first automobile were seated Frank B. McKenney, Leigh Bancroft, Frank E. Peters and Dr. William C. Mabry. The public spirited citizens who donated their automobiles which added to the splendid Tropico exhibit were Leigh Bancroft, Raymond Barker, Dr. P. O. Lucas, John A. Logan, William A. LaFontaine, and Stephen Veselich.

The pepper boughs which were used so effectively and which are always connected with one of the natural beauties of Southern California, were clipped from some of the handsomest of the many shade trees that adorn the thoroughfares of this city. It is whispered by those who know, that Frank B. McKenney, was seen as late as midnight Tuesday, with a lantern in hand, selecting the finest boughs which were placed into the artistic hands of Mrs. A. L. Bancroft and Mr. McMullin, who selected just the right place in which to arrange them so as to produce the best eect. While but few of Tropico's citizens assisted actively in arranging and decorating the bungalow float, yet all were equally interested in the success, and while giving encouragement realized that with Mrs. Bancroft and Mr. McMullin engaged in the active work of decorating the first prize would surely come to Tropico. Happy and pleased! The entire city from the northern, southern, eastern and western boundary lines is one happy, glad smile today. Every citizen is extending congratulations to the earnest few who worked so faithfully and who brought home the first prize.

Blue hydrangeas, so dark as to appear purple, the Elks' color, graced the home of Mrs. Samuel A. Pollock on Wednesday afternoon, when this gracious matron entertained the Kensington club, complimentary to her sisters, Mrs. Wesley Simons of Philadelphia, Pa., and Mrs. Emery Gates of San Francisco, who are the guests of Mrs. Pollock and her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Kasseall. The afternoon was pleasantly spent in art needlework and conversation. The dainty refreshments and the pretty favors were, like the artistic decorations in the purple and white. Mrs. Pollock assisted by her mother, Mrs. Kasseall, extended hospitality to forty or more of the members and friends of the club.

A number of George Van Hazelen friends, who reside in Los Angeles, remembering that he had a birthday anniversary recently, celebrated the event last evening by surprising him at his home on West Park avenue.

Miss Jeanette Meurs of Wilmar and David Fraser of Los Angeles, were the guests of George Van Hazelen at a prettily appointed dinner party preceding the arrival of the guests. Music and games were enjoyed throughout the evening as the young host and his sisters, Misses Ada and Mabel Van Hazelen are accomplished cornetists. A musical contest was also one of the pleasant features of the evening, the first prize being won by Will Monday and the second by Percy Lee. The young man thus honored and his sisters, Misses Ada and Mabel, were assisted by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hazelen, and the guests who so cleverly surprised their host, were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Moir, Mr. and Mrs. L. Frank, Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson, Miss Connie Sly, Miss May Van Aelstyn, Miss Jeanette Meurs, and Miss Blanche Edmiston; Messrs. David Fraser, Percy Lee, James Fraser, Jack Fraser, Gilbert Sly, William Monday and George Cully.

Mrs. William E. Burke and sons, Robert and Billy Burke, who arrived from San Francisco, Saturday morning, accompanied by Mrs. Burke's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Martin, is spending a few days with here parents, previous to occupying her own home on Central avenue. Mr. Burke and son, Richard, have decided to remain in Detroit, Mich., several months longer.

Mr. and Mrs. Burt W. Richardson and sons are enjoying a most delightful visit in San Francisco and attending the Panama-Pacific exposition.

Frank Burke, who but recently arrived with his mother and brothers, from a year's residence in Detroit, Michigan, is enjoying a most delightful visit at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Samuel A. Pollock, with their son, Allen K., who is the chum of young Frank.

Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Jenkins of Glendale avenue, were the over Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs Claude Fellows of Los Angeles. A delightful motor trip to Long Beach was one of the pleasures enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins, while the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fellows.

Apparently a man never gets to be so old that he ceases to be surprised when women's fashions change.

NOTES OF THE ELKS

GLENDALE DRILL TEAM GETS THIRD PRIZE WITH SCORE OF 90 POINTS

There was much excitement yesterday in connection with the drill team competition. The three leading teams—Denver, San Francisco, and Glendale—ran each other a close race. Denver came out first; San Francisco, second, and Glendale, third. There were only 3 points' difference between Denver and Glendale. Glendale's score was 90 points. Army officers were the judges.

This is a great honor for the Glendale drill team as the Denver team is a well-known and highly organized association. It has frequently been used by the Shriners to represent them and has been employed in similar capacity by the Knights of Pythias. The members of the Denver team have been the same for five years and had all the advantage of this long and efficient association. The Glendale team has only been together for two years.

San Francisco and Glendale are looking for even better success that that of yesterday. Whatever faults were committed in yesterday's competition will be corrected tomorrow.

Glendale Elks are proud of the honor gained by their neighbor Tropico, who won the first prize in the float competition yesterday. They are ready to acknowledge that the award was well deserved. However, they are equally pleased that although the civic float of Tropico won first prize it was designed by Dr. William C. Mabry, a Glendale Elk and was trimmed under the supervision of Frank McKenney another Glendale Elk.

Eastern visitors in Los Angeles have been greatly impressed with the excellent service given by the Los Angeles police force, which has been doing heroic work at the crossings of the narrow and crowded streets during the Elks' convention. The police of the city have always been noted for their courtesy and gallant conduct in this arduous service. The traffic officers just now have had a trying time but they have acted always with kindness and consideration for the public. Yesterday some of the visitors were amazed to see the traffic officer at Sixth and Los Angeles strees assist a box merchant to take his boxes across the congested street. The act was one of consideration but such acts are common among the traffic officers or Los Angeles.

TELLS OF KANSAS

L. A. HEACOCK LIVED LONG IN SUNFLOWER STATE BUT PREFERS GLENDALE

Among the recent arrivals in Glendale for permanent residence is Mr. L. A. Heacock, 518 Lomita avenue, father of A. B. Heacock, 507 W. 9th street. Mr. Heacock, senior, was in Glendale, on two previous occasions, visiting his people here and conceived a great liking for this city.

"I lived thirty-three years in Attica, Harper county, seventy miles southwest of Wichita," said Mr. Heacock, "and I enjoyed every moment I lived there. Kansas is a great country. It is one of the best farming countries in the Union. We raised wheat, corn, oats, hogs, cattle and mules and made good money out of them.

"The country there is prosperous. In the little town of Attica there were two banks, although the town only numbered about 800 inhabitants. It had also five general stores and several grocery stores. The farmers are in good condition.

"I was unfortunate enough to lose my right arm in a threshing machine; but it has not interfered much with my activity. I have always been able to attend to my farming work and managed to make things go all right. My farm in Attica district was well watered. We had a spring that flowed fifty gallons a minute. We did not need to irrigate. There is always plenty of rain in spring. This year the rains began in February and rained sufficiently every now and then. The consequence has been that Kansas has produced the largest wheat crop in its record—180,000,000 bushels.

"I like Glendale well. In fact much better than Attica. The climate is better for one thing. It is not so blazing hot in July and August Then there are other advantages, proximity to a large city, the presence of my relatives and the general atmosphere of ease and comfort that make this a desirable residence."

RELIGIOUS "MOVIE" TONIGHT

At the Presbyterian church tonight 8 o'clock will be shown in four reels the great religious allegory of Bunyan's Pilgrim's Progress with startling electrical effects. The films for this production were made amidst the magnificent scenery surrounding Torino, Italy. The strong Spurgeon lecture and the special music that accompanies, greatly enhance the beauty of the allegory.

The pastor and officers of the church are glad to present this unique attraction to the people of Glendale and surrounding towns. Everybody is freely invited. A silver offering is expected to meet the operating expenses. In order to accommodate the large crowds who will want to attend, the program will be repeated tomorrow night, Friday, at the same time and place.

WOMEN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY

Those who attend the meeting of the Women's Missionary society of the Congregational church tomorrow afternoon will enjoy a rare treat. The society will be addressed by Mrs. C C. Tracy of Los Angeles, who will give a most interesting lecture on missionary life. Mrs. Tracy and her husband, Dr. Tracy, have been missionaries for 47 years. Mrs. Tracy was a missionary in Turkey under the American Board of Missions and her husband, Dr. Tracy, was president of the Congregational college in that country. The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. D. H. Lane, 1432 Ivy street.

CHILDREN AND BOOKS

"ROSA BONHEUR" WAS SUBJECT AT PUBLIC LIBRARY JUVENILE HOUR YESTERDAY

Changing from the literary to the art department Mrs. Danford gave her youthful class at the library yesterday morning a most interesting account of the life and work of Rosa Bonheur, the famous French animal painter. While the great majority of the children had probably never heard of Rosa Bonheur all appeared to have seen at some time or other the world-known painting of "The Horse Fair," by this great artist.

Before the story of Rosa Bonheur wsa over the little ones were deeply absorbed in the life's work of the wonderful Frenchwoman whose love for animals was so great that in order to paint them from intimate knowledge she established her own private menagerie close to her residence. There in the midst of lions, leopards, tigers, horses and dogs she spent an ideal life.

The children looked with interest on the picture of the famous artist, whose sweet, refined countenance greatly attracted them. They learned of her other works, such as the picture entitled, "A Noble Charger." The interest created by this biographical talk is likely to result in much study of the lives of other artists the children having learned how much that is interesting appertains to such lives.

In addition to the lecture on Rosa Bonheur the children under the tuition of Mrs. Danford and Miss Scott learned something about the proper use of the catalogues. This will be of great use to them as quite a part of the utility of a public library is contained in the ability of the readers easily to find what they want.

The children's hour is growing in popularity every week and in spite of the counter attractions in the city at present there were 75 children present yesterday.

GLEANERS' CLASS SOCIAL

There are no more active workers in connection with the Congregational church than the members of the Gleaners' class. This organization is made up of girls of two Sunday School classes, one taught by Miss Emma Adams and the other by Miss Vantine Smith. These young ladies gave a very pleasant and enjoyable social at the church, Monday evening. There was a large attendance and the young people amused themselves with games and music. Plans were made for the famous "penny social", which is an annual event and the great social event of the year in that line. It will be held early in October. After the business and fun of the evening were finished the party partook of refreshments.

NORTH GLENDALE

Mr. and Mrs. Sawyer Montgomery, 1621 Dryden street, visited Los Angeles last Wednesday and spent the day with friends.

Mrs. N. B. Browne, 1620 Stocker street, returned Wednesday evening from Oxnard, Ca'., where she spent three weeks with her son, Bert Browne.

Judd Mead, 1648 Ruth street, made a business trip to Los Angeles, Wednesday, in the interests of the oil company of which he is a representative.

Mrs. Charles Rathbone, 1623 Burchett street, left recently for an extended visit to her father, H. P. Spencer of Merced, Cal.

Mrs. I. C. Rice, with her children, Dorothy, Alice and Master Merle, 1632 Ruth street, are spending the week in Los Angeles, as guests of Mrs. Rice's cousin, Mrs. Oliver Loomis, LaSalle avenue.

J. T. Asbury, 1325 Dryden street, has traded his home property, consisting of a modern six-room bungalow and three lots, to Hugh C. McClung, Hollywood. Mr. McClung is a well-known camera man for D. W. Griffith. He will make Glendale his home. Mr. Asbury is a mail clerk on the Santa Fe railroad and with his charming wife has many friends in North Glendale, who regret that they are going to leave.

Mrs. A. G. Williams and her daughter, Lillian, 1690 Stocker St., were guests during the week of Mrs. Williams' mother, Mrs. S. Boyer, Radium Springs, Los Angeles.

Warmbad had just appeared on the war map. As it is located in equatorial Africa the name can't be ascribed to inefficient heating.

MAIMED BY MOTOR

HERBERT GUTFREDSON LOSES THREE OF HIS TOES BY CYCLE ACCIDENT

That danger lurks for the careless in every species of auto vehicle was unfortunately illustrated this morning when Herbert Gutfredson, a little boy of about ten years lost three of his toes by jumping on a motorcycle when it was in motion. Herbert was riding along with his cousin, Orley Bond, 1740 W. Broadway, on a tandem motorcycle; when the accident occurred. The injured boy lives in Los Angeles, at 1920 N. Broadway. He was here visiting his cousin and having a good time riding about with him.

Orley Bond is a young student of music, who resides with his own people and rides into Los Angeles to his studies. The two cousins were riding down the street when Orley Bond stopped his cycle to attend to some business. Both got off and Orley jumped on again, not noticing that Herbert was not on. The little boy, as a boy naturally would, seeing the motorcycle start; ran after it and jumped on. Just at that moment the engine started up and Herbert's foot somehow caught in the chain, between the chain and the sprocket wheel. The little boy was barefooted and almost without his knowledge the powerful snap of the sprocket wheel and chain cut off three of his toes.

At first he did not seem to know what had happened but when he saw his toes lying on the ground and the blood pouring from his foot he became seriously distressed. He was at once conveyed into the office of A. W. Teel, who bandaged the injured foot and sent him to Glendale Sanitarium where he is now getting along as favorably as could be expected.

W. C. T. U. PROGRAM

At the Congregational church on Monday night, July 19, at 8 o'clock, an unusually fine program will be given under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. The following artists will appear on the program: Miss Clementina Landman will sing two songs, "The Swallow" by Cowen and "Come to the Garden" by Satter. Miss Bonnell will play "The Second Rhapsodie" by Liszt on the piano. Miss Shirley Chase will appear in Plastic poses. Miss Marguerite Lou Ledbetter, will give a monologue entitled, "The Little Girl from the Hotel." Miss Marian Lane will play a piano duet with Miss Bonnell. The scenes from Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar" will be presented by Mrs. Sloan, Miss Doris Packer and Miss Bonnell. Mrs. Sloan will read "Conner's Making of the League;" "The Coming Over of Nora;" and by special request Judd Brownin's description of "How Ruby Played."

The public is cordially invited to be present. No admission fees will be charged. A silver offering will be taken to be used exclusively for W. C. T. U. work.

MEETING OF W. C. T. U.

The regular meeting of the Glendale Women's Christian Temperance Union will be held at the home of Mrs. Jennie Wasson, 545 Acacia St., (formerly Tenth street), Friday afternoon, July 16. The proceedings will begin promptly at 2:30. There will be an interesting program consisting of biographical sketches of national and state presidents, and dramatic readings. Tropico ladies are cordially invited to attend and to bring their friends. Bring your song books.

IN HONOR OF MRS. WOOD

The Women's Foreign Missionary society of West Glendale M. E. church met with Mrs. E. Hoskyn at 1504 West Colorado street, Glendale, Wednesday afternoon, July 14. This meeting was in honor of Mrs. Ida Wood, who was to have been the hostess at this time had she remained in Glendale, but as she moved with her family some time ago to Perris valley, and could not entertain the society the meeting took this form. Mrs. Wood could not be present but she sent a long and interesting letter which was read at Wednesday's meeting. The letter described her family, home, church and Sunday school, scenery in immediate vicinity.

Mrs. Hoskyn had her home beautifully decorated with national colors and with red and white flowers. There had been prepared little red and white hearts tied with blue baby ribbon, there being a place for each lady to sign her name, or write a verse or a sentiment, and these have been sent to Mrs. Wood as a token of love and esteem, as she was an able and efficient worker in the church.

PHI BETA PI'S MEET

FIFTY COLLEGE SORORITIES JOIN IN ANNUAL CONVENTION AT BERKELEY

Amid the hundreds of conventions that have been held in California this year one of the most interesting was the convention of the Phi Beta Pi sororities, which met in Berkeley, last week. This convention is unique in this particular that it is a woman's convention and that it represents the most exclusive colleges in the country. The Phi Beta Pi's convention had 50 colleges accredited to it.

Among the important questions that came before the convention was that of "Extension of Membership to New Universities." Experienced parliamentarians always look with considerable dread and doubt on any proposal to increase membership in an old society. Such increase means usually the upsetting of old standards and of old voting combinations. It also very frequently means the decline of old authority and old ideals and the introduction of new standards. Therefore there was a very animated discussion on this subject, which ended in practical postponement of the decision.

The convention also discussed with great interest the question of "Anti-Fraternity Legislation." It will be remembered that a decision hostile to the existence of college fraternities was recently given by the Supreme court of Mississippi. This was a severe blow and its effect has been felt in other parts of the country.

"Such a decision against fraternities," said Mrs. Perce Curtis, 601 S. Central avenue, a prominent member of the Phi Beta Pi's, to a representative of The Glendale Evening News, last night, "is a matter of serious moment. It is apt to give the country at large the impression that there is something wrong with the sororities and fraternities. By the way I may as well explain that in the East we call all college societies, male and female, "fraternities," whereas in the West a distinction is made and women's societies are called "sororities."

"The decision of the Supreme court of Mississippi may have been determined by the foolish conduct of some young girls' societies. Young girls have all the faults of their youth and sometimes will be foolish; but the real aim of societies like the Phi Beta Pi's is serious. They are engaged in real work and useful work too.

"For instance our fraternity supports a settlement school in Gatlinburg, Tenn. We have a magnificent building, excellently equipped, with teachers' cottages, nurses for the children and a great many other features. We take care of bad cases of trachoma and do a great deal of good among the poor and afflicted.

"The Phi Beta Pi's have also instituted a graduate fellowship, the winning of which enables some girl to go abroad every year to finish her studies at foreign universities. There is also in connection with our society a loan fund for undergraduates which enables girls to tide themselves over those monetary crises that often threaten to terminate their studies. You see we are quite serious and not deserving of legislative interference. Young girls will make mistakes but it would be too bad if the good done by such a society as the Phi Beta Pi should suffer in consequence thereof.

"One evening of our convention was devoted to studying the methods and history of our settlement school. Then Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt gave us a splendid and informing talk on "Woman Suffrage" which was a revelation to eastern women. Afterward we had another evening devoted to a musicale and "stunts." This was one of the most enjoyable evenings of the whole session. It revealed a wealth of musical talent and also uncovered a mine of humor and wit. Then on another occasion we had what we called a "cookie shine." What that is, is a secret; but it is lots of fun let me assure you.

"Three hundred delegates came from Chicago on a special train with only one man among them all. That was made the most of in the side walks of the convention. Thursday of last week the whole great party went out for a trip on San Francisco bay—on a chartered steamer. The Hawaiian singers were aboard and charmed the ladies of the eastern states. We saw the Exposition grounds all gorgeous with lights as the evening shadows fell. We had a grand banquet at the Oakland Hotel, Saturday we spent as guests of Leland Stanford university and Sunday we enjoyed a house party at the Claremont Hotel,—a real fraternization."

Garrett Serviss says the latest aeroplane is like a winged lobster. If he'll now tell us what a winged lobster is our stock of information will be complete.

GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY, JULY 15, 1915.

HIGHWAY TO SAN FERNANDO

It is of some importance to Glendale that the state highway commission is about to open bids for the construction of five miles of highway to connect ultimately San Fernando with the good roads system leading to Pasadena and on through to San Bernardio. This stretch of road will be about fourteen miles long leading from La Canada to San Fernando. The work now ready to be put up to contract bid is for the road to run from La Canada in a northwesterly direction.

Other sections of the road are being prepared for advertisement and construction on them will begin as soon as the specifications can be gotten ready for the contractors. The present five miles which will be given to some contractor by July 19 will be constructed of Portland cement concrete. The graded section will be twenty-one feet, concreted to a width of fifteen feet.

At San Fernando the road will connect with Maclay avenue. It will touch La Crescenta, Montrose, and at La Canada will connect with the La Canada and Verdugo Canyon roads, both of which are improved highways. This road will provide an outlet for the San Fernando valley to the east over the Foothill boulevard.

It will greatly benefit the San Gabriel valley to have this new outlet, giving a shorter route both to the valley and to Pasadena and relieving the congestion of travel over the San Fernando road. One has only to stand a while at the foot of Colorado boulevard, where it joins San Fernando road, or to keep watch at the junction of the same boulevard and Verdugo Canyon road, to learn how great is the traffic that passes both ways. On Sundays the volume of travel is enormous and any new route that will provide some measure of relief will be a great boon to the motoring public.

PROGRESS OF THE WAR

If a species of "bull" may be permitted, such as Van Troil perpetrated in his famous chapter "On the Snakes of Iceland," the sole contents of which was a blank page with the words "There are no Snakes in Iceland," it may be reported that there is no progress of the war. Things remain as they have been for the past week. Russia holds Germany in check on the road to Warsaw, with rumors of a drive of great magnitude being prepared by the Germans.

From the western theater of the conflict comes the news of a lengthening of the British front by nine miles. This probably menas that there has been a considerable reinforcement of the British numbers in Belgium and France. Indeed it is reported, with what truth no one can say, that while the British authorities have all this time been crying out for more men they have already mustered in 4,000,000.

It seems hardly possible to credit that yet it is issued on good authority. Even if it is the case that the British have enlisted so many men, they certainly have not got arms nor ammunition enough for them. That the British have enlisted many more men than they give out is quite probable. It was not merely to furnish news for news agencies that the war came about and it is not wonderful that British, Germans, French and Italians keep silence as to what they are doing.

Whether Russia will be able to hold the Germans in their present position remains to be seen. It is said that they have not ammunition enough to cope with the well-equipped forces of the kaiser and that Field-Marshal Mackensen will smash them up and force his way to Warsaw.

There has been a great deal of such talk from the beginning of the first great drive to Paris; but it is noticeable that of all the goals to which the kaiser expected to drive none has been reached as yet—Paris, Calais, Warsaw.

In the case of Austria and Italy the game seems to be as much drawn at present as between the other combatants. Italy is finding it no easy task to batter in modern forts and apparently is not able to assemble as Germany did in the case of Liege, Namur and Antwerp immense guns, and enormous supplies of artillery massed on point after point and carrying strong position after strong position.

Unless something unexpected happens there will be no change in the present position for a few days. A few more thousands will lose their lives and some more misery and suffering will be caused, but there will be no famous victory.
